

PCS Series: Research and Tools for Supporting Military Transitions

APRIL 2, 2019 | 11 a.m. ET

About this Webinar

Military Permanent Change-of-Station (PCS) moves can have substantial impacts on military children and families, and it is important for service providers to equip themselves with the latest information to be able to provide education and support.

This webinar will offer an overview of common issues military families might face during a PCS. The webinar will first look at the 2018 RAND Report, "Enhancing Family Stability During a Permanent Change of Station." The remainder of the webinar will focus on the tools available to military service providers through Military OneSource, such as Plan my Move, and other Military OneSource moving resources that can support families throughout a PCS.
