

PERSONAL FINANCE
Military Families Learning Network

FAMILY TRANSITIONS
Military Families Learning Network

Topic: Military Financial Transitions Webinar Twitter Chat

Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1 p.m. ET

#MFLNchat Questions and Answers

Dr. Barbara O'Neill, CFP®, Rutgers Cooperative Extension and Jennifer Rea, PhD Candidate, University of Minnesota in the College of Education and Human Development, Family Social Science Department

General Instructions:

- Log in to TweetChat (<http://tweetchat.com/>) or Twubs (<http://twubs.com/>) at 1pm ET on Wednesday, October, 21.
- Insert #MFLNchat into the textbox that pops up so you can tweet easily and view the live Twitter stream
- Authorize the application to access your Twitter account
- Create valuable content in 140 character sound bites by answering each question as it is presented
- Have fun with and learn from other financial practitioners

Questions That We Will Discuss:

1. Where are you joining us from today?
2. In your experience, how have you assisted military families be “prepared” for their next transition?
3. What resources about benefits have you provided to military families?
4. What military financial transitions can result in an increase in household income?
5. What military financial transitions can result in a decrease in household income?
6. How do you help military families manage financial transitions?
7. What do you enjoy most about helping military families manage their financial transitions
8. How can military families cope with a reduction in household income?
9. How can military families cope with the loss of military allowances (e.g., BAH) and benefits?
10. What should departing service members do with their Thrift Saving Plan (TSP) balance?
11. What transition related financial concerns do parents and grandparents of service members find most challenging?
12. How can military families cope with financial transitions?
13. What financial resources are available to “outside family members” (e.g., parents, grandparents) of service members?
14. Can you share a rewarding moment where a client had an 'a-ha' moment about their military financial transitions journey?
15. What resources might you share with others that you did not know about before this week?