

Professional Boundaries in Action: Lessons from Practice

JUNE 5, 2019 | 11 a.m. ET

About this Webinar

There is always the risk that boundaries and roles can become blurred and uncertain in the work of helping professionals. The pressures of time and circumstance can create challenges. Practical lessons drawn from experience can help guide the way for appropriate and effective effort. In this webinar, helping professionals with past and current military experience share insights and advice through the use of case studies and exercises.

Presenter

Jen Stewart, MSW
Deputy Branch Head, Family Care Manager,
Exceptional Family Member Program Headquarters
United States Marine Corps

Jen Stewart graduated from the University of Hawaii with a Master of Social Work degree. Her work has consistently focused on children and families, and the development and implementation of best practice services. During her career, she has worked in a variety of settings providing clinical and case management services. In 2009, Ms. Stewart joined the Headquarters Marine Corps Exceptional Family Member Program and currently serves as the Deputy Branch Head for Family Care and the USMC EFMP Manager.
